

WEATHER FORECAST.

Partly cloudy and colder to-night; Friday clearing and colder. Moderate brisk northeast winds, shifting to northwest Friday.

QUEENS AND BROOKLYN BOROUGH.

DAILY STAR

NEW YORK CITY

GREENPOINT NEWS SEE INSIDE PAGE.

THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR.

Published in Queens County, Office, 30-41 Borden Ave., L. I. City.

GREATHER NEW YORK. THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1910.

Kings County Office: 127 Greenpoint Ave., Brooklyn.

PRICE ONE CENT

WOMEN WANT EQUAL RIGHTS

Enthusiastic Meeting at the League Building in Flushing.

MAX EASTMAN OF MEN'S LEAGUE MADE FIRST ADDRESS OF EVENING.

Believes Presence of Women at Either Albany or Washington Will Improve the Men Sent There to Make the Laws.

The Good Citizenship League building, Sanford avenue, Flushing, was crowded to the doors Wednesday evening by men and women prominent in Flushing who came to hear the reasons why women should be given the right to vote.

Seated on the stage with Miss Ecob were Max Eastman, of the Men's League; Miss Ecob, president of the Good Citizenship League; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the international president of the Equal Franchise Association; E. Platt Stratton, of College Point, who was a member of the Committee of One Hundred during the last campaign; Magistrate Joseph Fitch, of Flushing; Norman Nelson, Rev. Mr. Ecob and Daniel Carter Beard.

The appearance of Messrs. Fitch, Nelson, Stratton and Beard on the program was a surprise to many of the men present.

Among the matters which Alderman Ehntholt has taken up in long delayed action regarding the widening of Fulton avenue at street, Astoria. This project has been held in abeyance for several years.

The Alderman hopes to bring it up again soon and with a fair chance of having the work started within a reasonable time.

The people along the line of the thoroughfare are anxious to have the widening perfected so that the entrance to Astoria from the ferry may present a better appearance than it does at present.

From what can be gathered it appears that there is a hitch in the engineer's department of the city government as to the widening of Main street from Grand avenue to the intersection with Fulton avenue.

According to the plans projected, Grand street is to be cut through from Fulton avenue to Main street to connect with Grand avenue, and the latter thoroughfare is to be carried on to Fulton avenue so as to make a direct route to the Ninety-Second street ferry.

It should be done. "I believe the work of widening Fulton avenue and Main street should be commenced at once," said Alderman Ehntholt, to a Star reporter.

"The people are in favor of it and there is no valid reason under the sun why the improvement should not be made. It would materially increase the attractiveness of the entrance to one of the prettiest sections of the Borough, and it would also greatly enhance the value of property in the neighborhood. I shall do all I possibly can to have these streets widened."

TROLLEY DEMOLISHES A MOVING WAGON. About 5:20 Wednesday morning a B. R. T. car, bound towards Jamaica, ran into a loaded moving van on Jamaica avenue, near Curtis avenue, owned by Mrs. Greenblatt, of 133 Ludlow street, Manhattan.

PEOPLE MUST NOW DECIDE

Here Is a Bill to Regulate Water Charges in Queens.

IT IS NOW HELD IN THE ASSEMBLY AT ALBANY.

Citizens and Taxpayers Should Read Through the Act Carefully and Decide Whether They Want It.

AN ASTORIA IMPROVEMENT

The Proposed Widening of Fulton Avenue and Main Street.

IT HAS BEEN HELD UP FOR SEVERAL YEARS NOW.

But Alderman Ehntholt Has Taken Hold of the Matter and Proposes to Push It Through—Will Benefit Locality.

Among the matters which Alderman Ehntholt has taken up in long delayed action regarding the widening of Fulton avenue at street, Astoria. This project has been held in abeyance for several years.

The Alderman hopes to bring it up again soon and with a fair chance of having the work started within a reasonable time.

The people along the line of the thoroughfare are anxious to have the widening perfected so that the entrance to Astoria from the ferry may present a better appearance than it does at present.

From what can be gathered it appears that there is a hitch in the engineer's department of the city government as to the widening of Main street from Grand avenue to the intersection with Fulton avenue.

According to the plans projected, Grand street is to be cut through from Fulton avenue to Main street to connect with Grand avenue, and the latter thoroughfare is to be carried on to Fulton avenue so as to make a direct route to the Ninety-Second street ferry.

It should be done. "I believe the work of widening Fulton avenue and Main street should be commenced at once," said Alderman Ehntholt, to a Star reporter.

"The people are in favor of it and there is no valid reason under the sun why the improvement should not be made. It would materially increase the attractiveness of the entrance to one of the prettiest sections of the Borough, and it would also greatly enhance the value of property in the neighborhood. I shall do all I possibly can to have these streets widened."

DR. H. H. HUNT SURGEON DENTIST. 185 THIRD ST. JUNCTION JACKSON AV. AND GREENPOINT BRIDGE, LONG ISLAND CITY.

WHAT, WHEN DRS. DISAGREE?

Experts Differ Radically In Wakeman Lunacy Case.

TWO DECLARE HIM INCOMPETENT, WHILE TWO OTHERS AFFIRM THE REVERSE.

Long Fought Out Controversy Over Mental Condition of Ex-Writer and Publisher Will Be Decided By Jury To-day.

The case of Edgar L. Wakeman, the ex-writer and author, which it was believed would be ready to go to the jury in the County Court Wednesday night, continued until 12:15 o'clock this Thursday, when Judge Humphrey began his charge.

Among the last witnesses examined were Drs. Joseph W. Moore and Marcus B. Heyman, of the Central Islip Hospital; Dr. Wm. B. Moseley, of the Kings County Hospital, and Dr. J. J. O'Connor, an examiner in lunacy.

Dr. Moore, who has examined Wakeman at the Central Islip Hospital and at his boarding place in Brooklyn after his release from the institution, declared him to be suffering from progressive senile insanity, but admitted that he now was greatly improved.

Dr. Heyman, who has examined Wakeman at the Central Islip Hospital and at his boarding place in Brooklyn after his release from the institution, declared him to be suffering from progressive senile insanity, but admitted that he now was greatly improved.

Dr. Moseley, who has examined Wakeman at the Central Islip Hospital and at his boarding place in Brooklyn after his release from the institution, declared him to be suffering from progressive senile insanity, but admitted that he now was greatly improved.

Dr. O'Connor, who has examined Wakeman at the Central Islip Hospital and at his boarding place in Brooklyn after his release from the institution, declared him to be suffering from progressive senile insanity, but admitted that he now was greatly improved.

Involved in the hearing also was the question of a contract made by Wakeman in the spring of 1909, in which he is said to have given to Mrs. Ellen Hoare, of 113 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, a widow with whom he is now boarding, a portion of his lands at Deep Glen, Richmond Hill, and one by which the remainder of his lands was said to have been handed over to John V. Savine, director of the Deep Glen Artificial Stone and Development Company.

The committee that the land referred to was valued at $20,000 an acre, by Wakeman, was said to have been handed over to John V. Savine, director of the Deep Glen Artificial Stone and Development Company.

Involved in the hearing also was the question of a contract made by Wakeman in the spring of 1909, in which he is said to have given to Mrs. Ellen Hoare, of 113 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, a widow with whom he is now boarding, a portion of his lands at Deep Glen, Richmond Hill, and one by which the remainder of his lands was said to have been handed over to John V. Savine, director of the Deep Glen Artificial Stone and Development Company.

Involved in the hearing also was the question of a contract made by Wakeman in the spring of 1909, in which he is said to have given to Mrs. Ellen Hoare, of 113 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, a widow with whom he is now boarding, a portion of his lands at Deep Glen, Richmond Hill, and one by which the remainder of his lands was said to have been handed over to John V. Savine, director of the Deep Glen Artificial Stone and Development Company.

WOODMERE WANTS TO INCORPORATE

Residents Believe They Can Have Better Police Protection if They Under State Laws.

Important Action Taken by the Assembly Forest, Fish and Game

To-day.

Because of the recent burglaries at Woodmere, a movement has been started there to incorporate the place as a village. Were this done, the promoters of the movement point out, Woodmere could be properly policed. At present, however, not even a constable does duty in the village, and the only persons that burglars have to fear are the occupants of the houses they break into.

During the past few weeks there have been six burglaries committed in Woodmere, and the Nassau County authorities have not succeeded in getting a clew that would lead to an arrest. In most instances but small articles were taken by the house breakers, but in one case they stole $1,000 worth of jewelry from the home of Charles L. McBurney.

The property owners who favor incorporation say that were Woodmere a village it would be an easy matter to employ two or three policemen to do night duty.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

Assembleman Thompson, providing that there shall be no open season for deer on Long Island for two years from the time this bill is enacted. It also strikes out the provision permitting taking dogs into forests inhabited by deer during the present open season for deer on Long Island.

YOUNG JAYCOX IN THE TOOLS AGAIN

This Time the Rockaway Lad is Charged With Breaking Open a Telephone Pay Box at the Beach and is Paroled.

Norman Jaycox, fourteen years of age, of Rockaway Beach, who has been in the Far Rockaway court on charges on several occasions, was there again on Wednesday and this time the complainant in the case says the boy broke open a telephone coin box. Walter J. Keating, a special agent of the New York Telephone Company, alleges that Jaycox broke a box at Rockaway Beach, but whether or not the boy obtained any money Keating is unable to state.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

Jaycox emphatically denied that he knew anything whatever about the matter until he was arrested. He told the court that Mrs. Roland had made a mistake in thinking the boy she saw was her son, but the magistrate decided to believe Mrs. Roland's side of the story, she said that she knows Jaycox well, and that she is positive it was he and another boy who broke the box.

IN HONOR OF ST. PATRICK

Sons of the Emerald Isle Faithfully Observe The Day.

GRAND PARADE IN MANHATTAN WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE.

Delegations from Queens Make a Fine Showing—Local Organizations Are Reviewed by Borough President Gresser.

St. Patrick's Day was duly and properly observed despite the inclemency of the weather. The great feature of the day, the parade in Manhattan, was a splendid spectacle. Thousands of people lined the sidewalks along the line of march and cheered the paraders to the echo.

The Sixty-Ninth Regiment was the first organization in line, as usual. The color bearers carried the battleflags of the command. Then came the Irish Volunteers, under command of Col. Charles Crowley and Major Eugene Flood. Next came the Temperance Cadet Corps to the number of 300, came all the way from Wilkesbarre, Pa., to take part.

From the reviewing stand erected in front of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Archbishop Farley and many city officials watched the paraders as they passed. The line of march was from Forty-second street and Fifth avenue up Fifth avenue to One Hundred and Twentieth street, and thence to Herald Square.

Parade was as follows: Platoon of Mounted Police, Sixty-Ninth Regiment; Lieut. Col. Conly, commanding; First Brigade, Lieut. Col. Conly, commanding; First Regiment, Irish Volunteers; Edward F. O'Brien, Major; Second Regiment, Irish Volunteers; Major Michael F. Healey, commanding; Third Regiment, Irish Volunteers; Major Stephen F. Donnelly, commanding; Eighth Battalion, Irish Volunteers; Major Charles F. Lacey, commanding; St. Raphael's Cadets, headed by Hibernian Boys' Drum and Pipe Corps of Queens.

Queens County Hibernians, A. O. H. of Hudson County and all visiting Officers of A. O. H. of New York County and National officers and chairmen of committees.

Division of A. O. H. of New York County in the following formation: First Battalion, James Gahan, Marshal; Second Battalion, Major E. T. McCrystal, Marshal and aide; St. Ann's Cadet Band, Fourth Battalion, Joseph J. Murphy, Marshal and aide; Cathedral Band, Fifth Battalion, James J. O'Connor, Marshal and aide; Immaculate Virgin Band, St. I. Battalion, Henry W. Conly, Marshal and aide; Paul Fathens' Band, Sixth Battalion, Patrick Gilroy, Marshal and aide; Eccentric Firemen's Drum and Pipe Corps, Eighth Battalion, Percy Lennon, Marshal; Clancy's Band, Ninth Battalion, Frank Joyce, Marshal and aide; St. Agnes' Pipe and Drum Corps, Patterson, N. J.; Tenth Battalion, Thomas F. Burke, Marshal and aide; Hibernian's Drum and Pipe Corps, Eleventh Battalion, Percy Lennon, Marshal; St. Joseph's Band, Brooklyn; Twelfth Battalion, Joseph M. Reardon, Marshal and aide; Thirteenth Battalion, John F. McManus, Marshal and aide; Merrick's Band and St. Gabriel's Drum and Pipe Corps.

The Men from Queens. The men from Queens made a fine showing. There was a splendid contingent of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. All the details were conducted under the auspices of the county board of officers of Queens County.

Before proceeding to Manhattan there was a parade through Long Island City. Grand Marshal Patrick Healey and his aides, Patrick Powers, Michael Leahy and John Rooney, headed the procession.

County Chaplain Rev. Herbert F. Farrell, of Far Rockaway, and Rev. Fathers Cherry and Farrell, of St. Raphael's parish, followed in the procession. Then in order came St. Raphael's Pipe, Drum and Bugle Corps and cadets, the county officers of the A. O. H., Prof. Neary's brass band, Division No. 1, A. O. H., Blissville Pipe, Drum and Bugle Corps, Divisions Nos. 2, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9, A. O. H., of Queens, and old and infirm members of the A. O. H. in barouches.

Start from Headquarters. The procession, escorted by mounted police, started from headquarters in Blissville at 11 a. m. and proceeded through Greenpoint avenue, to Hulet street, to Thompson avenue, to Twelfth street, to 73d avenue, to Jackson avenue, and to Fifth street, where Borough President Lawrence Gresser and staff reviewed the parade from the steps of the Borough Hall. The marchers continued on to Vernon avenue.

(Continued on Next Page.) CLEARING SALE OF MEN'S SHIRTS AS LOW AS 29c. AT FRIEDMAN'S 31 Borden Avenue Long Island City

EASTER MORNING will find more well hatted men on the avenue than ever before. For your hat follow the crowd with KLAGES 37 Vernon Avenue near the City Tel. 7 Greenpoint, Factory, Danbury, Conn.

DR. H. H. HUNT SURGEON DENTIST. 185 THIRD ST. JUNCTION JACKSON AV. AND GREENPOINT BRIDGE, LONG ISLAND CITY.

ESTABLISHED 1854. FREDERICK T. HALLETT, UNDERTAKER, EMBALMER PARLORS: 126-131 FULTON AVE., ASTORIA, L. I. CITY.

Full Value in Return for Your Money and Satisfaction Guaranteed. We are busy repairing Watches, Clocks, and Jewelry for your Neighbors, and we want your work, too. SCARBOROUGH'S 37 Jackson Av. L. I. City. Long Island City's Leading Jeweler.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea, and is used in every part of the world. Be sure and get the box. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act, June 30th, 1906. Serial number 1078.

WE COVER ALL YOUR NEEDS In drug store goods of every kind we cover your needs. Supplies for home, bath, nursery and sick-room are all found here in great profusion. Deliveries made promptly and prices as low as is consistent with quality. ANTHONY SCHMITZLER, Pharmacist, 10 JACKSON AVENUE, L. I. CITY.